

by the manner in which he took the third race from Wilhite by a wonderful spurt in the home stretch. Blackie Daw, who was picked by the "wise birds" to grab the first race Saturday, but got away to a bad start and finished third, is also among those entered in the handicap.

It is reported that a carload of horses is on the way from the Tia Juana track.

SOME TROOPS CAN BE THANK- FULL IN ESCAPING SO-CALLED SOCIETY CLASS

"It's not what you are with your trappings on;

It's what you were at home."

—Lyric of a Border Kipling.

Illinois militiamen at Camp Wilson, Tex., and militiamen of every other state have found themselves tabooed in "the best circles" of San Antonio, unless they can prove their social standing.

The society folks of San Antone don't want to take any chances of their daughters falling in love with common Chicago mechanics who because of their ability have been made captains or lieutenants in the militia.

It would be perfectly awful if a belle of the Alamo would make a mistake and fall in love with a stockyards pig sticker, who, because he was a brave and able soldier had been made an officer and who because of good looks and excellent manners, might pass for a real gentleman—according to the San An-tone society's opinion of what a gentleman should be.

And so the social leaders of San Antone have gotten together and are sounding the slogan: "We must protect our marriageable daughters."

To aid in separating the "real gentlemen" from the "impossibles" they have gotten copies of Dun's, Bradstreet's and the Blue Books and, aided by the Chamber of Commerce, are making lists of the guardsmen who have sufficient social standing or financial standing at home to permit them to gain entree to the "best homes" of San Antonio.

In the regular army it doesn't matter about the social standing of the forefathers of an officer; by virtue of the fact that he is an officer he is accepted as being good enough for a higher trust of Uncle Sam and therefore good enough to go any place on an equal footing with anyone, no matter if his dad was a pigsticker.

But in the militia it's different.
 Snobbishness and chance for fond society mothers to get "a good catch" for their daughters must be protected.
